

Session: Students' Point of View

Aim of session: To get input from students on suitable form of student-IRO cooperation.

Material needed: None.

Time of session: 1 hour.

Description of session: This can ideally be used as a follow-up session of the session An Untapped Potential, in which IRO staff reflect on what forms of cooperation they can have with students, in particular exchange students who have returned from abroad. It is thus vital to invite student representatives to this session.

The facilitator presents the background and introduces the outcome of the session An Untapped Potential.

The students comment on the various proposals and there is an open discussion about it.

The facilitator summarizes the outcomes.

Other notes: If you are looking to invite exchange students, a good place to start might be the Erasmus Student Network. A list of their local organisations can be found at <https://esn.org/sections>.

In the description above, there is only a simple open discussion. Of course this can also be more structured, as is the case of the session An Untapped Potential.
